

ROCKY FORK WATERSHED

- PRIMARY TRAIL MAP -

NOTE: TRAILS ARE NOT CURRENTLY MARKED! This is an unofficial primary trail map only. There are many secondary roads and trails within the Rocky Fork Watershed which are not featured here, therefore, this map is only offered as a rough, basic guide for recreational users. GPS, and map and compass skills are strongly recommended for more extensive backcountry travel. This map is not a substitute for good preparation, common sense and solid outdoor skills. No claim to accuracy is made; no liability is assumed.

- Not permitted on the watershed are horses, motor vehicles, fires or camping.
- Parking is very limited at and near the main gate; leave room for others if possible; do not block gate.
- Observe special fishing regulations, which are strictly enforced from the main gate upstream.
- Rocky Fork is prime bear habitat - know the dos and don'ts of travelling in black bear country.

General Trail Info with Approximate Mileage (Mileage is rounded to nearest 10th)

- Entrance Road: Easy; .7mi to main backcountry trailhead; Triple Falls; scenic streamside walk
- Flint Creek Battle Site: Easy; .9mi; site where John Sevier def. Cherokees and Creeks in 1789
- Flint Creek Tr.: Moderate; 2.8mi to junction with Flint Mtn. Tr. (not shown); scenic valley hike
- Flint Mtn. Tr.: Moderate; 4.7 mi loop from junction with Flint Cr. Tr. to main gate and parking area
- White Oak Flats: Moderate; 2mi; spring & late summer wildflowers, poss. bear and turkey sightings
- Hidden Lake: Strenuous; 5.8mi; excellent views; prime bear habitat; highly scenic Hidden Lake
- Buzzard Rock: Strenuous; 7.1mi via Headwaters Tr. and High Country Tr.; spectacular views
- Appalachian Tr.: Strenuous; 7.5mi via Headwaters Tr. & High Country Tr.; mod. 3.1mi via Flint Cr. Tr.